POSITION VACANT

The PD Council is calling for expressions of interest for the position of Parish Secretary in the Pastoral District of the Southern Vales. It is an important ministry role and involves working with Fr Paul in setting the agenda for the council meetings and in writing up the minutes. Other duties may be incorporated in association with Fr Paul and the co-ordinator of the pew sheets and rosters, Ted Sandercock.

Training will be provided in consultation with Fr Paul and the Acting Parish Secretary, Ted Sandercock.

Good communication skills along with some computer skills are essential for the position.

For further information on this important ministry role, please contact Fr Paul Devenport on 8323 9744

ALDINGA ADVENT PAGEANT—AN ECUMENICAL AFFAIR

History came alive at the Mothers' Union Outing to the Willunga Court House, as Ted Sandercock told the story of Willunga's settlement and early days, and a court convened from those present tried "naughty girl" Helen Blake for peddling illegal liquor (or was it cough medicine?) - a mock trial based on an actual case. MU members were joined by other parishioners for the event, afterwards adjourning to the Willunga Hotel for lunch.

The next meeting, the final for the year, will be at the Seaford Ecumenical Centre. Guest Speaker Anne Chittleborough: "ABM and Us", followed by lunch at the SEM cafe. Meet at St Ann's at 9.30 am

CELEBRATE ST STEPHEN'S DAY at St Stephen's, Willunga Combined Service, 30th December 10 am

Followed by the traditional shared lunch under the peppercorn tree.

As has often been the case, the long-range weather forecast has again predicted that there will be no snow in Willunga (deep, crisp, even or otherwise) on the Feast of Stephen. But that's no reason not to celebrate the occasion!

For anyone unable for some reason to join this parish celebration there will be a service of Morning Prayer at St Ann's Aldinga at 9 am

It's that time of the year again where some of us are as busy as ever with end of year activities and preparations for Christmas. Any casual walk through any shopping centre will provide plenty of evidence that retailers are not being complacent about their sales figures over this Christmas season. Discounting of the kind which we see on Boxing Day has become the mark now of pre-Christmas sales. Retailers say that people are spending more this year, which is in a way good for the economy but in a survey last week, it's been revealed that people are buying Christmas presents early to avoid the last minute rush.

I hope that in this busy time of the year, we also spiritually prepare for the celebration of Jesus Christ's coming into this world as a baby in a manger. We do this in the four Sundays before Christmas in the season of Advent. Advent, which means 'coming' is also a time, which looks forward to the end, to the last times, to Jesus coming again to judge the world. Therefore, we should in the lead up to Christmas be waiting and watching and preparing our hearts for the real meaning of Christmas.

As we prepare for this joyful occasion, we are reminded that there are communities in the world who have little to celebrate as they are trapped by conflict and poverty. We as Christians can help through our prayers and support by giving to the Christmas Bowl. This year, the appeal will help rural communities in Ethiopia improve their food security, refugees on The Thailand/Burma border and other communities in Iraq and Fiji rebuild after disaster. Our Pastoral District is again joining more than two thousand churches from 19 denominations in this initiative.

While we prepare to celebrate Christmas and think of others who have little, think of the greatest gift we have ever received. It is not bought at the local store, but given to us through the grace of God, whom we celebrate coming into this world each year. Jesus Christ, the Son of God lived among us and still does through the workings of the Holy Spirit. He died for us and rose again for us, which we celebrate at Easter.

Ensure you take part in this special time of the year. It begins with Advent in preparing the way of the Lord over four Sundays before Christmas and then culminates in the celebration of Jesus Christ being born into this world on Christmas Day. The birth of Jesus marks the engagement of God in the ordinary world that we know and live in. Jesus is the one who comes to give us a taste of God's future. It is the one gift that exceeds all others.

To celebrate this, please join us at the Christmas services, starting with a service of Lessons and Carols at St Margaret's, McLaren Vale at 7 pm on December the 23rd. This was originally advertised at St Stephen's Willunga, but has been changed to St Margaret's. Also, the children's service will be held at St Margaret's on Christmas Eve at 7 pm, not 6 pm as in previous years. Please check The Grapevine for the full list of the services in our four churches.

May you all have a joyous and peace filled Christmas.

From St Philip & St James, Old Noarlunga

Rupert Best, Stephen Wells and Bob Smith continue to keep the grounds in good order and have recently begun replastering the lower internal walls. The top paddock has been well maintained in preparation for the coming summer and fire extinguishers have also been serviced. There was in fact a fire which broke out between the church and the river, outside the church property, on 20th November, but it was quickly dealt with by the CFS before it spread.

We thank Julia Drought for playing the organ on 4 November. Christine Carroll, our regular violinist, was married at St Peter's Church, Glenelg on 17 November (see below). We are very grateful to her for her regular high-class accompaniment together with her mother, Connie. We wish Christine and Clark every joy as they begin married life.

We are looking forward to Bishop Stanley's addresses during Advent.

We are grateful to those who helped rescue one of the peregrine falcon chicks which failed to make a good first-flight from the nesting box on the tower.

Mavis Harvey R J P

Mavis Harvey (nee Dungey) died on 1st November at Perry Park where she was in care following her move from her home in Water St, Old Noarlunga. She had lived almost her complete life in the town apart from her early married life with Bill Rayner on the Tatachilla property. They built their own home at Old Noarlunga on part of the Dungey farm property opposite the town square. Bill died, and she later married Syd Harvey, a retired English policeman.

Following Syd's death after a prolonged illness she lived on at Water St and continued to live an active and interesting life. She played both the piano and the organ into her later life and was associated with a local music group as well as playing the organ at St Philip & St James and assisting with the church cleaning. She outlived the other members of her family and cared for their needs when required. Local historians found her to be a treasure of information about the district, which had changed greatly during her lifetime of nearly 100 years.

Hers was a long and useful life and we are all so much better for having shared some of that life.

Wallace Mausolf.

St Margaret's Patronal Festival was well attended. With a healthy group of enthusiastic singers in attendance and Brian McMillan bringing out the best of the virtual organ, we all sang at an impressive volume! Fr Paul looked, as always, resplendent in his celebratory red robes with Trish Frith, Judith Wells, Sr Beverly Driver and Greg Roberts assisting in the sanctuary.

Fr Paul spoke about St Margaret, using the scriptural description of the woman who was the paragon of Virtue. He went on to say how St Margaret fitted well into this role as a woman of strength and great love for others less fortunate than herself through service to others. The Sunday School children created colourful portraits of St Margaret, which they duly displayed at the end of the service.

After the service, we retired to the Sunday School room to enjoy a shared lunch, ably organised by the Ladies Guild. Thankyou to everyone for their contributions to make this a joyful celebration of St Margaret. May we all aspire to reflect some of her charitable traits to those around us.

Julia Drought

Our Jumble Sale on the 26th October raised over $800, an impressive effort. Thanks and congratulations to all involved.

The driveway has been resurfaced including appropriate water drainage channels. Thank you Greg Roberts for organising this and thanks to Alf and Anne Lear's grandson and his work colleagues for a job well done. A broken cement Telstra cover has been replaced and markers are to be left over the new cover to prevent breakage again.

The Rectory inspection has been completed and thanks to Bill Cale for his assistance and the work he has done to improve the standard of the Rectory. Thanks also to Julia for work on the curtains inside; most of the work required has been completed.

Question: from photo D, what did Puppet Pete say to Fr Paul, which made Heather Chapman, Vera Penny & Jean Jackson laugh? (Your suggestions to the Editor by 15th December - a chocolate frog for the best answer!)

Grannie Annie's has just celebrated its first year with a "First Birthday Party". It has been a quietly successful coffee drop in time for mums with young children and any one else who may want to visit on a Thursday morning. The church is open at this time and a number of people have visited just to come into the church and or even pray. Our team of helpers serve raisin toast, biscuits and coffee, help with children's play and are there to listen to others, and chat. A big thanks to the many who make this possible.

The birthday celebrations were a great success with one mum making a birthday cake and many visitors coming for the first time or returning for the celebrations. Several of the "Grannies" were able to be present, and "Puppet Pete" called in. We were happy to welcome Fr Paul also. One mum was keen to tell all how valuable she has found this drop in centre, not only for her children but also for herself.

At our Family service the Elliot Girls Katie and Sophie love to do the readings, as does Thomas when he is here. The children's song in November was "God's got an Army" and they marched up and down the aisle singing it with Heather as Eileen played her piano accordion.

We thank Fr John for taking two services this month and for also holding the Remembrance Day service at 11am at Aldinga's memorial on 11th November. We also had a healing service following the main one this last Sunday with five people using this opportunity for healing.

Our new signage is up and is very eye-catching; it still needs removable sections to advertise combined services.

Quotes are being sort for the repair and repainting of the timber work of the windows and doors of the church. No decision as yet has been reached. Meanwhile Guild has tentatively set Dec 2nd Feb as a working bee for the final re-oiling of the hall's timbers.

A period of six months has been set by the Guild to trial the use of Fair Trade Tea and Coffee at the hall.

A successful BBQ and bacon-and-egg sandwich stall was held at the Aldinga Bay Market on 24th November, to raise money for community care.

The City of Onkaparinga advisory environmental architect, Andrew Stephen's, visited on Tuesday October 9 to discuss future restoration activities and in the immediate months, the repainting of the front doors of St Stephen's and other needed repainting activities. Colours were discussed and the St Stephen's people have chosen a heritage colour sage green. Quotes will be sought. Andrew and the stone mason, Dave Johnson, visited on 8 November to view the condition of the church, and suggested that immediate work be done on the NE window and cracks above the entrance. Dave will submit a quote for this work and Andrew will discuss financial assistance with the City of Onkaparinga.

The Southern Vales Schools Ministry Sausage Sizzle at the Willunga Quarry Market was a success. We sold 15 kg of sausages during a busy morning. Thanks to Anne Chittleborough, Duncan Gordon, Margaret Cale, Fr Paul and Helen Devenport. Val Martin, Trish Frith and Wendy Sandercock for their assistance with cooking, selling and interacting with the community. Special thanks to Jim Elgar from the SVSM team for his splendid organisation.

Some 15 people enjoyed the last Saturday Night Out at Bush Inn on 24th November The next will be on January 19th at Russell's Pizza. Book early as places limited.

We look forward to St Stephen's Patronal Festival which will be celebrated with a combined service on 30th December at 10.00 am. The service will be followed by a shared lunch under the peppercorn tree. (see p. 3)

Please join us for the Vigil Mass on a Saturday at 5.30 pm, if at any time you are unable to attend a Sunday Service. However there will be no Vigil Mass on Saturday 29th December.

R: Danielle Organ and Thomas Ruzgar, seen here with their son William and the bridal party, were married at SSPJ on 3rd November. The tartan is that of the Scottish Rangers soccer team!

St Ann's Family Tea—on the wild side

St Ann's final Family Tea for the year on Friday 30th November was a truly festive occasion, with a Christmas feast and entertainment. After a delicious barbecue tea, Brian McMillan on keyboard and Eileen Binns on squeezebox provided the music for a Christmas singalong. Eileen, with Trish Frith in pink pyjamas, did a rendition of "She'll be coming 'round the mountain", and "Dr" Trish read out some illuminating colonial medical remedies which she illustrated with herbs.

News from November Pastoral District Council Meeting

The meeting of the PDC on 20th November was chaired by Fr Dirk van Dissell, and began with a half hour's discussion on subjects earlier raised by the Outreach Committee: outreach to the unchurched, and Home groups.

Outreach opportunities included involvement in ANZAC Day and Remembrance day, fundraisers such as jumble sales, Christingle service invitations, and Granny Annie's. Julia mentioned invitations to a memorial service for people whose funerals had been held at St Jude's Brighton, and Pat reported on the anniversary cards sent from St Ann's to children baptised there. Fr Paul suggested other potential opportunities might be groups for single mums, or environmental issues. It was noted that as had been mentioned in the Fresh Expressions discussions we are now into the third generation of people whose only knowledge of the church comes from the popular media.

Home groups: Two different approaches were discussed here: a Bible-based group and an informal one. Bible Studies in the Rectory on Wednesdays were great times of fellowship as well as exploring the Bible readings for the week. Other groups which people had experienced were more experiential, at least initially, and it was discussed whether these were less "threatening" to those not already involved with the church. Peter Chapman said that he and Heather were willing to open their house to a home group. Home groups to be discussed further at the next meeting.

Social Committee would not be re-formed at present, but would be formed as need arose.

Parish Calendar: Of the 120 calendars printed, only a few remained unsold. Sales had now covered costs and were making a profit. The calendar had not been undertaken as a money-making venture but a reminder to people in their homes of the life of the PD. However, a 2014 calendar, if underwritten by the church, would enable return of GST, and early orders (August or before) would attract a discount, ensuring a greater profit. The Chittleboroughs were thanked with acclamation for producing and underwriting the calendars.

Publicity: Publicity Officer Susan Smith was covering updates of publicity for regular services. For special events the responsible people/groups could arrange their own publicity direct or contact her with details. For Christmas services an attractive combined churches two-page spread in the Messenger Press would cost us approx. $250. Discussion of the cost resulted in the decision that it was money well spent. Coastal Views and On the Coast give free publicity to churches and Susan had already contacted them. Fr Paul to arrange promotion of the Christmas services through local radio Tribe FM

The phone book lists the PD as Southern Vales, and also has entries under localities. Anglican parish services are listed in the Onkaparinga Council's Community Directory.

McLaren Region Community Carols Sunday 9th December at Tatachilla College at 7.30 pm. A donation of $200 to be made to help cover expenses, as an act of outreach, and in recognition of the work Greg John from Tatachilla had put into St Margaret's.

The Finance Report was presented by Ted Sandercock in the absence of the Treasurer:

Finances for October

Nett monthly income	$7,206.67
Monthly expenditure	$6,540.88
Operating profit/loss	$665.79
Missions	$558.55

Overall Finances (January through October 2012)

Income	$67,301.91
Expenditure	$73,831.87
Operating profit/loss	-$7,134.70
Donations to missions	$4,383.60

A report from the Fund-raising Committee was tabled, with several attractive suggestions for fundraising to be further explored.

Op Shop Proposal: St Margaret's Guild was exploring the idea of an op shop at St Margaret's as an appropriate use of the land and source of income. The present shed could not be used, as it lacked electricity, natural light, heating and water but a bequest could assist with the cost of erecting another and more appropriate building. Fr Dirk asked for suggestions in writing to be brought to PDC, including funding, location etc. From his experience at St Francis' Christies Beach, Fr Dirk was able to suggest some issues to be looked into, emphasising that it was a serious commitment to undertake.

Parish Status of PD: Fr Dirk reported that Diocesan Council had determined that this was to be looked at again in 12 months.

St Ann's, with holiday and weekend visitors attending services, had requested a service of Morning Prayer on combined service days. The 4-6 combined services a year were good opportunities to bring the four parts of the parish together, and while it was possible that some people would choose not to attend the combined services if there was one at their own centre, the down side of combined services was that it was very off-putting to people trying to attend church while in the district if the church was closed. There were also elderly and incapacitated people who would not make the extra effort to travel to another church. As a one-off decision, Fr Dirk decided that there should be a service of Morning Prayer at St Ann's on the Sunday after Christmas (St Stephen's Patronal Festival combined service) but that the matter should be given further consideration.

The next meeting of the Pastoral District Council will be held on Tuesday 18th December at 7 pm. Observers welcome.

Fresh Expressions of Evangelism

On a hot windy day early in November a number of parishioners from the Southern Vales attended the Voice of the Laity presentation on Fresh Expressions of Evangelism. We listened with a great deal of interest to The Rev'd Tracey Gracey and the Rev'd Stephen Daughtry who both spoke with passion and enthusiasm about this ministry.

They started by reassuring those present that this was not about doing away with or changing existing traditions within our churches but about connecting with people who do not attend church, in a variety of different environments and sharing our faith with them. It was emphasised that this may not bring more people into our buildings but could encompass a wide variety people in different activities who may learn about faith in non traditional settings.

Some of the successful examples currently occurring in Adelaide are Walking Church where a group meets in Belair National Park, Messy Church where art and craft activities bring people together, and market stalls etc. The majority of these activities are led by lay people supported by their parishes with prayer, study and planning.

The topic was very well received by all present and we left feeling challenged but at the same time uplifted.
